

“ Our immortal folk creations are a great historical source. Not only do we discover general facts in them, but they also contain private life, depict old customs, and reveal to us the prevailing ideas and feelings of an era. A perennial source, authentic folk traditions and tales must therefore be collected and preserved with utmost care. ”

Nicolae BĂLCESCU